Winston-Salem State University,

Preparing For Tomorrow

We the students of Winston-Salem State University, have come to realize that our school is an epitome of cultural, social, religious, and academic interactions between dedicated students, administrators, faculty, and staff. In conjunction with the university, we are engaged in fulfilling one of the greatest dreams of our lives — to further our education. Having the strength, the know-how, and a working academic program, the members of Winston-Salem State University have become more than just an institution: we have become a working family. Together, the family of WSSU is preparing for tomorrow — a dream of yesterday.

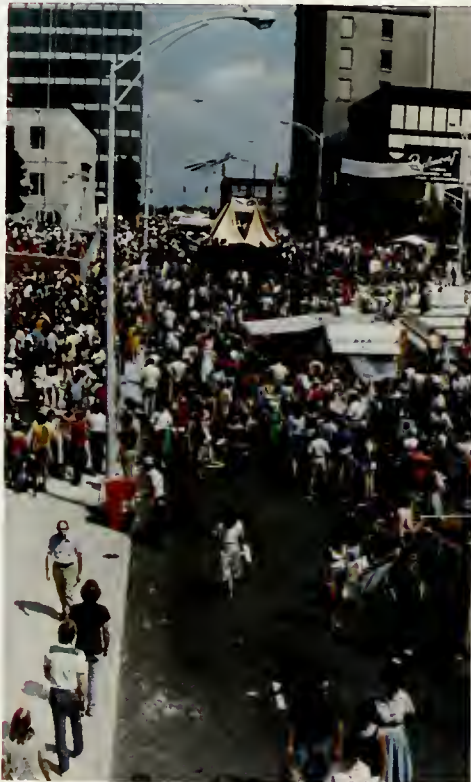

Colorful Campus Life

At Winston-Salem State University, students enter to learn and depart to serve as scholars, but learning goes beyond the classroom. The students play a very significant role in planning the activities of the university. There are fine arts festivals, guest lecturers, programs within the community, and just plain ole' student interaction. There are rarely dull moments, and discoveries are made daily. A very exciting and colorful part of campus life, Greek letter sororities, fraternities, and organizations not only provide entertainment at Greek shows, but service this area in a wide variety of capacities.

WSSU and the Community

Still, in conjunction with academics, WSSU has designed programs for the community. There are summer youth programs for our little brothers and sisters, elderhostel programs for our respected elderly, and Lyceum Programs which are enjoyed by all of the 'SU family as well as the community. The community in return provides programs that can be enjoyed by the university family. Annually the community has the Carolina Street Scene and the Mayfest. Memories made in four short years will last for the rest of our lives. They're times of wonder, times of bliss, times that we will someday miss.

Stand Up And Cheer

Athletically inclined, we have been known to excel in sports, both in the fields and on the courts. But, as was pointed out before, this is not all that we do here. Our only call to fame lies not within a game. It's

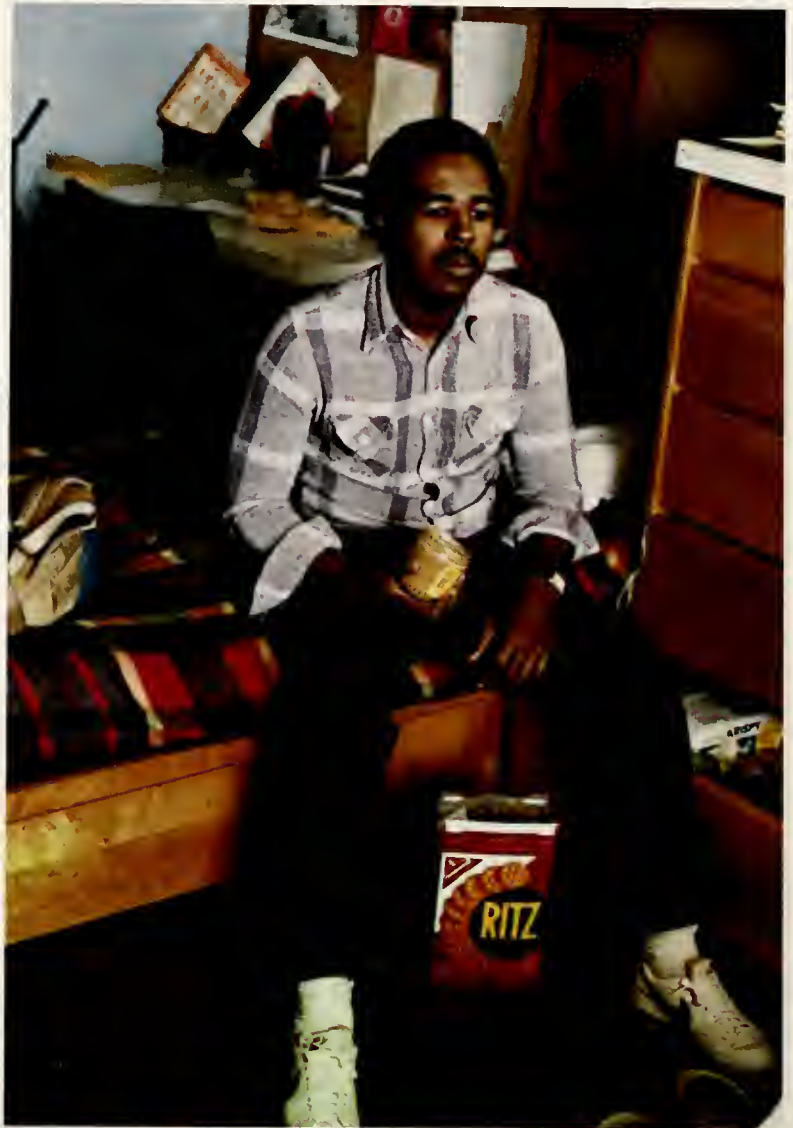

Stand up, and cheer for one of the most impressive events of the school year... Homecoming. Ebony beauties show off slinky figures as they are crowned queens of the family. And just what do you call a near perfect man? One with talent, charm, finesse and sexy legs? The ancient Egyptians made such men kings. The ancient Greeks called them gods. The Romans called them bath, but at ole 'SU, such a man is crowned "Mr. Ram". From parades to social events, the Red & White "Ram Fever" is felt by all.

Good Times Old Friends

United as one and working together as a whole, the WSSU family has produced in 89 years, a home that is stable and we will strive to be productive for a lifetime. From its humble beginnings as Slater Industrial School in 1892, Winston-Salem State University has grown enormously. We are a university always in the go, constantly revising old ways and pioneering new ideas. Despite the economic situations of this moment in time, at WSSU, We Still Stand United!!!!

BLACK COLLEGE DAY 80

Black College Day! Oh What a day? It was an event in which students from predominantly black colleges across the country gathered in Washington, DC, to save their BLACK COLLEGES. The event was organized and led by journalist Tony Brown, who really motivated the students to save their schools.

Though there were students from all around, the two buses of Rams from Winston-Salem State University proved to be the most spirited. Some colleges sent as many as fifteen buses, but the Rams prevailed. "Ain't no way you can beat a Ram ..."

The students first met at the ellipse, where they listened to inspiring speakers, enjoyed the music of the marching bands, and spectated the beautiful black college queens. Incidentally, but not surprisingly, WSSU's own Miss Lauretta Battle was first runner-up in the Miss Black College Day Pageant.

Excited and ready to save what was theirs, the students united and marched down the multi-laned streets of DC to the capital, singing the theme of the day — "Save Black Colleges"!!! The inspired Rams changed many of their sport's cheers to black college cheers, and led the way to the capital. Chanting "What do ya want? "BC's" What's that? Black colleges. Which-a-way? Everyway ... " The Rams had the entire crowd joining their unique vivacity and enthusiasm. Though the president did not come out to listen to them, they made him hear in his house, for determination was what made the event a success.

Upon reaching the capital, the students assembled on the lawn and walls to listen to more stimulating speakers. Dick Gregory proved to be the favorite. He brought the students to their feet as they gave him a standing ovation.

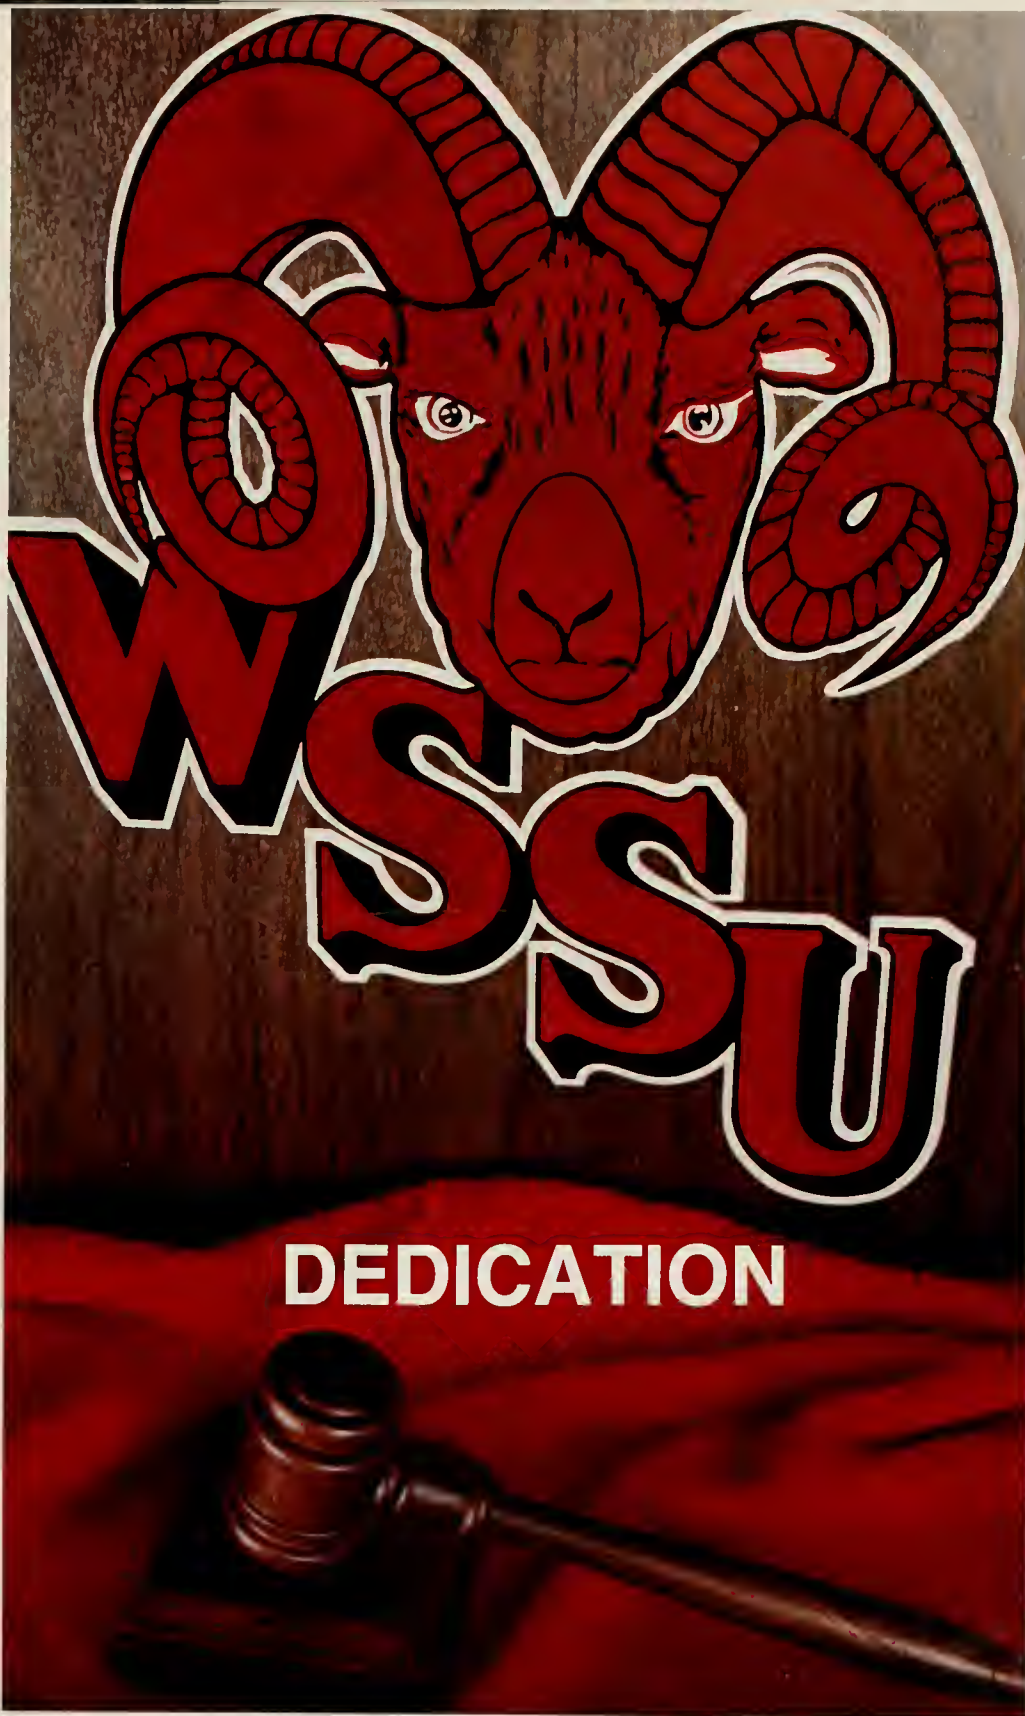

After a full day of rallying and supporting the black colleges, the students returned to their buses, satisfied with the efforts they had exhibited. Since the event is to be an annual one, the students left looking forward to a more inspirational time next year. Afterall, our schools are all that we have left, and we must SAVE BLACK COLLEGES!!!

In an unbalanced environment, the heaviest weight is the imagination. It can service when reason to, it can echo when searching for, it can flourish when challenged, and it can conceive a million weapons. Imagination, creativity, can make, take away or add to what ever efforts are applied towards a goal, and when love and self is introduced, you can become a growing foundation for "yourself" and for others.

Until then, know our past more power to our present
then, peace to our future
Sobabu C. Narris

Dear Rams,

The challenge of success, one of many demands to which college students must respond, is by far the most exacting. It is essential to establish goals underscored with monumental ideals and actively pursue these goals with will power and confidence in ourselves.

For nearly a century, Winston-Salem State University has prepared youth for achievement and service in a democratic society. Strong teaching, research, community and professional service are hallmarks of the faculty. After departing, WSSU alumni can reflect upon their involvement in an educational endeavor that is truly unique.

To the illustrious Class of '81, it is my hope and dream that every graduate will work toward gaining as many skills as possible in his/her chosen profession. To the underclassmen, my message is short but to the point: set no limit to the amount of that quantity and some more in order to face the challenges of the future. To everyone associated with this university, please make an effort to serve humanity as often as you can; we are unable to determine when we will be in need of someone's concern and assistance. May God bless you!

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Roots of Excellence

Just as others before us, we the members of the Class of 1981 take this opportunity to reflect upon our successes, failures, joys, pains, happiness and sorrow as a result of our life at Winston-Salem State University. The words "graduating senior" have always been a title we have aspired for and now a title that we have finally earned.

Our journey began in August of 1977 when the Freshman Class of WSSU descended upon Winston-Salem with enthusiasm, and energy. Places, people and things new to us quickly became old and familiar. Old Atkins Hall and Third street Dormitories were legends in their own right and our first stay in them proved to be their final use. Some areas of Ram Athletics proved to reach an undefeated season and earned a place in the elite football powers of the CIAA. Our First Homecoming proved to be a success both athletically and socially. Groups such as Maze, Bootsy's Rubber Band and the Emotions provided us with a homecoming show never to be forgotten.

The freshmen of W.S.S.U. in 1977-78 also had one very important first semester "student," Dr. H. Douglas Covington. His first year as a Ram probably proved to be as rewarding and frustrating as any of ours. We possessed and still retain a vibrant and undying spirit and vitality unseen before at "old SU."

The Freshman year ended with memories and the Sophomore year was born with anticipation. We finally had some "hours." Our second year was full of growth for virtually all the members of our class. We expanded our social perimeter and increased our input.

We grew culturally as Broadway musicals, such as the WIZ entertained and enlightened us. Athletically, Bill Hayes' Rams proved that lightning can most definitely strike twice, and be just as lethal. The gridiron Rams completed another successful and envious football record. Their entrance into the NCAA Division II playoffs was an indication that Winston-Salem State University was growing up and out by leaps and bounds.

The Sophomore Class, in the spring of 1979, beamed with imagination, vitality and energy. This fact is proven by the many projects sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Maturing rapidly, we showed the other classes what unity and spirit were truly about. The inauguration of our Chancellor was a historic highlight to that year, as well as a memorable one.

The third year at Winston-Salem State made us realize that the statement "Class of 1981" was not just a spirited cry, but a stark reality. We began our education in earnest. Our major areas of study took on demanding aspects of specialization. As our looks became sterner, our spirit became deeper and our responsibilities became greater. We adopted the motto "Roots of Excellence" as an indication of our pride and determination as Rams. Members of our class were "right on schedule," so to speak. We had evolved from inquisitive and "wardly" Freshmen to sophisticated, and responsible Juniors. This was only a step closer to the future which loomed inevitably before us. As Juniors we continued to express service and imagination as a class. We were almost "through" and we enjoyed the knowledge of that fact. The friends we made had by this time evolved into companions and life-time confidants. Our Junior year, full of placement interviews, and job resumes, ended with a delight in knowing "We've come this far, no turning back."

As Seniors in the year 1981, we have reached fruition. Our journey finally revealing itself for what it is; a new beginning. Our times of all night studying and all night partying and all night worrying have wondrously meshed to produce individuals who are competent, confident and committed to the goals they set forth. As Seniors in the year 1981, we realized that we must gradually release ourselves from the protective cover of undergraduate life. Our training has been some of the finest available, and our responsibilities are some of the deepest possible.

As Black College Day '80" was a milestone for Black Colleges across the United States, Rams from all classes showed their unity and support for the nations 103 Black Colleges and Universities.

In conclusion, there is no way to truly sum up the final year in a place which has been so much to so many, because it is not possible and not fair.

This writing does not read as a record of all the accomplishments of the Class of 1981, nor is it meant to. Projects, parties and people of the Class of 1981 will always be remembered and respected. Now we leave our love, legacy and loyalty to and with Winston-Salem State. We will not say farewell, but . . . Thank You!

With respect to all underclassmen, tis the Juniors who excel,
In their experience and challenge . . . far little or none dwells.

The Juniors are in the midst of promise and hope,
In a world of endurance, where all must learn to cope.

Success is there . . . and it's awaiting for all to enhance,
The Juniors will prosper, just give them the chance.

September 6
WSSU — 22 ELON — 27

The Rams premiered the season with a tough, offensive battle against the "Fighting Christians" of Elon College. The intensity of the game was revealed by Elon's surging dominance of the first quarter and WSSU's continuous attacks.

The Rams lead 22-17 going into the final quarter and victory seemed almost assured. However, it was the "survival of the fittest" as Elon fought back and gained an illustrious 22-27 victory.

September 13
RAMS — 21
NORTH CAROLINA A & T — 28

The Aggies were well-prepared as they handed WSSU their second consecutive loss. A & T scored on their first possession and virtually dominated through their fierce rushing and passing attacks. Reminiscent of the Elon game, the Rams, through the versatility of quarterback Karlton Watson, regained the momentum and posted a 21-14 lead in the third quarter. However, A & T struggled back in the midst of the fourth and final quarter to deadlock the game at 21-21.

Through pure dominance of their massive ground game, the Aggies posted an emotional 28-21 victory over arch-rival Winston-Salem State.

September 20
RAMS — 21 NCCU — 42

The Rams were seeking victory number one against the "Cinderella" team of the CIAA — North Carolina Central. As noted in the previous games, the Rams were aggressive throughout the first half and maintained a narrow half-time lead of 21-14.

Central ignited the second half scoring with a 75-yard kick-off return for the game-tying touchdown. With the score tied at 21-21, the Rams failed to penetrate throughout the remaining quarters. Central outscored the Rams 28-0 in the second half and breezed on to a decisive 42-21 victory. The Rams were now 0-1 in the conference and 0-3 overall.

September 27
RAMS — 17
VIRGINIA UNION — 6

Through the tense resurrection of their running game and defense, the Rams "restored life" as they defeated the Panthers of Virginia Union University 17-6. Runningbacks Arrington Jones and Michael Ferguson rendered the victory with astonishing outbursts that left the Panthers faltering in their own tracks.

On defense Harrison Stokes and Lawaskia Jenkins Rammed their opponents with key tackles that held the Panthers to one score. The conference victory placed the Rams at 1-1 in the CIAA and 1-3 overall.

October 4
RAMS — 17 NORFOLK — 13

Now in the midst of the versatile season, the Rams were now concentrating on victory number two against the top ranked Spartans of Norfolk State. Both teams struggled offensivewise as the game dispersed a defensive war. The Rams won 17-13 by o Keith Porson's 31-yard field goal with 4:20 left in the final quarter.

The victory kept alive the Rams' bid for the CIAA title. The Rams now stand 2-1 in the conference and 2-3 overall.

October 11
WSSU — 47
LIVINGSTONE — 3

The Rams put the Livingstone Bears into early hybernation as they punished their conference opponent 47-3. The Rams dominated from the opening kick-off and surged continuously into the end-zone. The Rams have won 3 consecutive conference games and are playing at the 500 percentage mark for the first time this season.

The season has passed the half way margin and the battle for the CIAA title is ossured to be a "photo finish." The Rams are 3-1 in the conference ond 3-3 overall.

October 18
RAMS — 21 FAYETTEVILLE — 0
HOMECOMING

The Rams made it four consecutive victories as they shut out the fearless Broncos of Fayetteville State 21-0 before an enthusiastic homecoming crowd at Bowman Gray Stadium. The trio of starting quarterback, Karlton Watson, runningback, Michael Ferguson; and substitute quarterback, Greg Stakes ignited the Rams furious offensive threats. The Rams compiled 346 total yards, 214 came from the running attack alone. Despite the Rams continuous offensive coordination, the Broncos comprised the game into a respectable, defensive struggle.

October 25
RAMS — 17
CENTRAL STATE — 24

This was an emotional set back for Bill Hayes and his Ram squad who entered the contest with four consecutive wins. The surging Marauders of Central State capitalized on severe Ram turnovers and exchanged them for scores.

November 1
WSSU — 7 J.C. SMITH — 3

Still pursuing the CIAA Title, the Rams struggled against J.C. Smith to keep their deminishing chance alive. The team's battled endlessly like two heavy-weight boxers with each going the distance and each denouncing the fall. Fortunately, WSSU held on to win by a 7-3 decision.

November 8
WSSU — 10
ELIZABETH CITY — 17

The Rams chances for the conference title or any post-season play settled upon the final game. WSSU emerged fired up, but the vikings quickly put out the smoke. The game was deadlocked 10-10 and the Rams entire season "spoiled" with four minutes left in the final quarter. The Vikings capitalized on a blocked Ram kick and advanced to score. The touchdown gave the Vikings a 17-10 lead and the Rams hopes for a "miracle" season had ended.

The Rams thus concluded their up and down season with a 5-2 conference mark and 5-5 overall. It was not a totally satisfying season, however, each player expressed a bold sense of integrity and determination.

University Fire Station

Winston-Salem State University (WSSU) hopes to have a school of public services — perhaps including firefighting instruction — by 1985. That was part of the message WSSU Chancellor Douglas Cavington delivered to more than 125 people who attended the dedication and tour of University Fire Station No. 4 Sunday, December 14, 1981.

Fire Chief Lester Ervin presided over the ceremony. The station, at 290 S. Clarmont Avenue, replaces the old Station No. 4 on Dunleith Avenue near Third Street.

Alderman Vivian Burke, chairman of the public safety committee, made the charge to the station staff, and Alderman Virginia Newell, who represents the ward in which the station is located, introduced the speaker.

In addition to its role as a firefighting unit, the station will serve as the commander's office for District 11 and as an in-service training site.

RAM FEVER ... CATCH IT

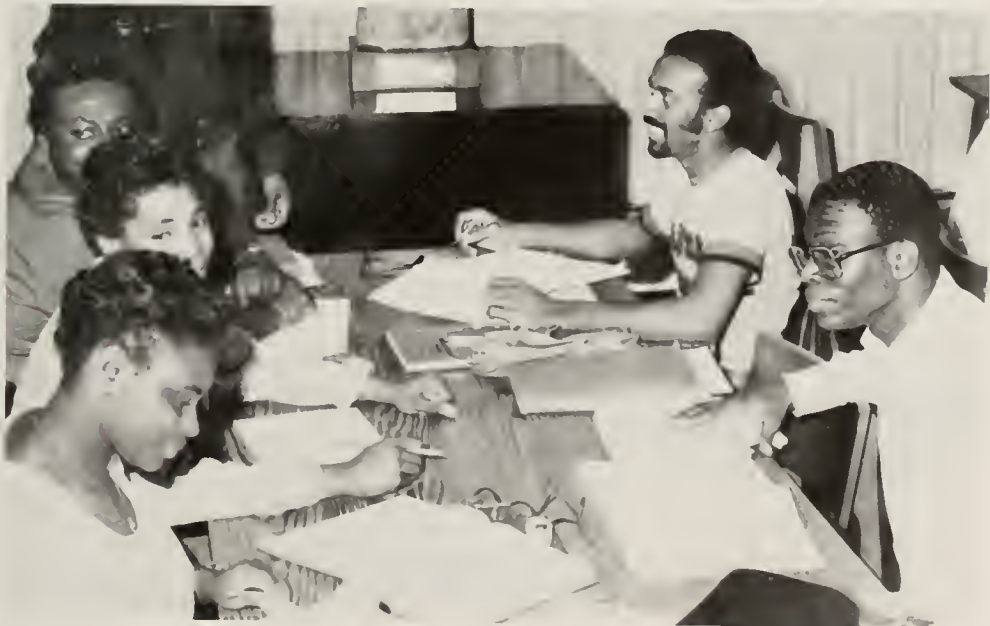

There's an epidemic going on, and it's all about,
It makes you excited and want to shout.
To have these symptoms, you must be a believer,
In success, in yourself, and in Ram Fever.

Night Scope

Monday:

Monday is usually a study night for most students. There are a few exceptions. There are those of us during the fall who choose to watch Monday Night Football.

Tuesday:

Nothing much happens on Tuesday night. This is usually a good night to go bowling, skating, or to a good movie if your study schedule isn't too heavy.

Wednesday:

This is hump night. Students know that there are only two days left in the school week. This is usually a good night for meetings. There are numerous religious, frat, and social groups that choose Wednesday night as a get down to business night.

Thursday:

This is a very good night to visit your favorite lady or your favorite gentlemen. The visiting areas of the various dorms are usually teeming with interaction. For most people, this is pre-party night.

Friday:

This is party night. A lot of students use this night for recreation. They feel that they have just killed another week and that they are entitled to some serious fun. There are various discos and clubs to go to. Sometimes there are concerts. Then again, there is "The Pit" and the Gym.

Napping

He's asleep again,

Ah, I finally made it

The car is clean, but plaid seat covers —

Let's go far a hoy ride

Mr. D, if I give you a jump, will you give me a room?

Dummy, I told you we should have filled up before we left.

Ram Grooming

Not too close!

WASHING AND IRONING

Even though we're not housewives, we still must do the laundry. Wrinkled clothes we cannot wear, so the ironing board we cannot spare.

THE MUNCHES

Three meals a day surely sound sufficient, but we still make our way to the dormitory kitchen. Chef-boy-or-dee, Campbell's, or home-made, we must eat something with our bread and butter.

HELLO!!

Ringg, Ringgg! That's the sound of the telephone. Though we have millions of other things to do, we find much time to occupy the phones, both in the halls and in our rooms.

DATING

The dormitory living rooms are often filled with couples taking a break from their studying to see each other.

CANTEEN

We used to go the union to find the canteen, but after Xmas, we were shocked to find the canteen in the bottom of the new C.E. Goines Center. Now we use microwaves and other new-fongle equipment.

WINTER

WONDERLAND

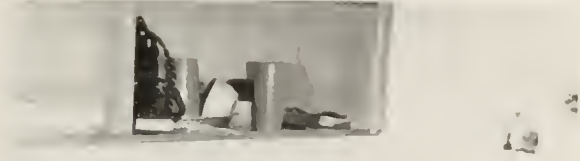

Ahh! The time of year that the ladies of 'SU hate most — snow time. Why? Simply because some robots make the ladies snowball targets.

For Our Many Blessings

Our religion, we cannot forget. We have services to show our gratitude to God for helping us prosper and thanking him for our many blessings.

I will never get caught up!

Studying is an act that no student at 'SU escapes. We study in the bed, at our crowded desks while watching television or listening to the radio, and some of us even make it to the library.

I'm not really studying.

Froggies on the leap.

I just got here.

"Starting a new radio station from scratch is not an overnight process, but despite the process we are on our way."

The plans for station operation have been completed. The Construction Permit has been completed and submitted.

The station equipment has been received and installed.

The first radio course and the radio club are well underway.

"On this end we are ready to go."

Social Security Administration

Cooperative Education is an educational approach that provides the student with planned alternating or parallel periods of classroom study and supervised public or private employment. Work experience is related to each student's academic study or career goals and is regular paid employment.

BEEP — Black Executive Exchange Program

1981 marks the Black Executive Exchange Program's twelfth year of service to students at the nation's traditionally black colleges and universities. During the academic year, close to 400 black professional career men and women from 200 firms in the private and public sectors are serving as "Visiting Professors" in BEEP's credit-bearing courses at 32 different schools.

Sponsored by their employers, these Visiting Professors — or BEEPers, as they are commonly called — are sharing with students their on-the-job know-how of such disciplines as Business Law, Manufacturing Processes, and Mass Communications. BEEPERS have plenty of advice to pass on regarding corporate gamesmanship, career mobility and similar subjects that the vast majority of black college graduates have had no exposure to.

Marching in drill formations

The Military Science program at Winston-Salem State University is a crossenrollment program with Wake Forest University. Classes are presented on the WSSU campus with selected advanced course leadership laboratories presented at Wake Forest University and High Point College.

Military Science program objectives provide:

1. A broad educational base including, in addition to those subjects integral to the degree field, certain academic subjects of particular value in both civilian and military pursuits.
2. A strong sense of personal integrity, honor and individual responsibility; knowledge of the human relationships involved and an understanding of the responsibilities inherent in assignments within the military service.
3. Abilities to communicate effectively both orally and in writing.

The ROTC program also includes women.

advanced course cadets

Attention to instructors is always essential.

Reserve Officers Training Corp

However, confusion may occur at the most inopportune moment.

Field training exercises are important teaching vehicles. Here we are learning how to land navigate with a map, compass and a few clues.

We first get instructions and start time.

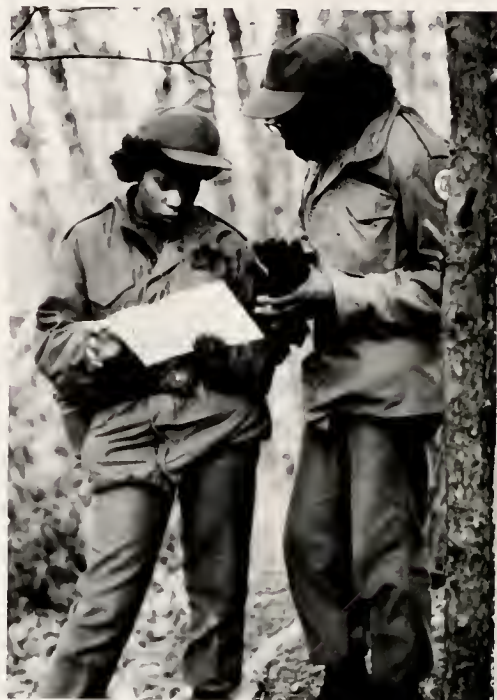

Then plot the clues

Sometimes we get misoriented.

Shoot on ozimuth where?

Other times we simply get lost

Some of us like to stop ond study mother nature.

In Memory of Dr. Cleveland Williams and Mr. James Peace

Thou spiritual Father has chosen thee,
To enhance the heavens eternally.

Your righteousness and wisdom shall truthfully endeavor,
Your presence and warmth shall exceed forever.
In honor of thy member the bells toll and gleom,
The angels rejoice and the birds peacefully sing.
Thou departure is a part of life which inhabits our tomorrow,
For your love lives on to ease our sorrow.

MRS. ELVITA HUNT

Who is this beautiful young lady? She's Mrs. Elvita Hunt, wife of James and energetic mother of Jimmy, Reggie, and Robin. She joined the 'SU family in 1972 and became the loyal and attractive secretary that everybody loves. She is secretary in the Office of Student Activities.

Mrs. Hunt's philosophy of life is that one can get anything out of life that he wants. She feels very strongly about the students here at W.S.S.U. She believes in helping others which she has shown by helping the 'SU students. Though she looks like a student herself, we know who she is, and we salute her.

Some Favorite People

HELEN M. ARMSTRONG

She has often been called the "Mother" of Kennedy Dining Hall, for just like a mother she has supervised nutritious meals for the students, faculty and staff at WSSU for 14 years. Her name is Mrs. Helen M. Armstrong, but her latest name is "Mt. Saint Helen." Why? Simply because she erupts when students insist on "cutting line" in the dining hall.

Mrs. Armstrong is a High Point native and the mother of one child, Amanda. Though Amanda is really the only one, Mrs. Armstrong says that she is the mother of over 2,000 children — the 'SU students. Her demand for morality and respect makes her the epitome of motherhood. Our home would not be complete without our mother, Mrs. Armstrong.

WILLIE A CUMBO

Willie Cumbo, better known by many as just plain ole "Cumbo," is a native of Canway, NC. He is an alumnus of Winston-Salem State University where he received a B.A. degree in Health and Physical Education. Presently, "Cumbo" is the Student Union Programmer at W.S.S.U.

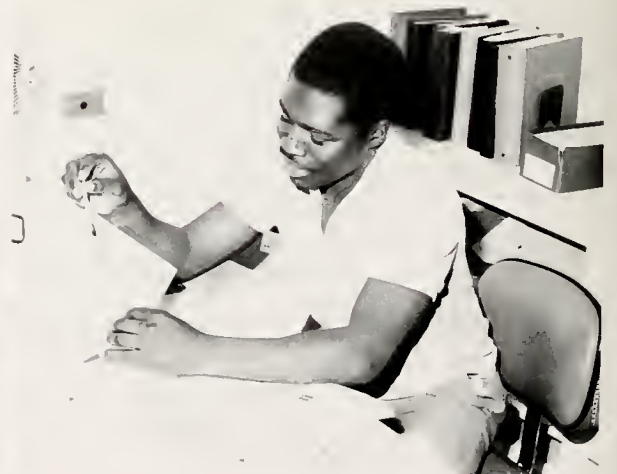

When not working, he finds time to investigate fast cars and fine music upon many other things. His smile is one that we rely on to brighten up things when campus life is dull and gray.

"Cumbo" feels that W.S.S.U. is a fine Black institution that is growing. He firmly believes that one should do unto others as he would have done unto himself. He has future plans of attending graduate school and obtaining a Masters Degree. But for now, he's our union man, Mr. Cumbo.

Dear "Ma" Scales,

In August of 1977, the Class of 1981 came to Winston-Salem State University full of curiosity, questions and enthusiasm. In August of 1977, you agreed to serve as faculty advisor to the Class of 1981. Since this date, your relationship to us and our feelings for you have surpassed even our wildest dreams.

It is really hard to express the gratitude and love we feel for you. Words aren't enough. But, it's only fair to share with others an experience which has changed all our lives.

As a faculty advisor, you were to supervise our fund-raising projects and other extra-curricular activities. Instead of just signing your name to forms, you encouraged the world around us. A smiling face, an open mind, and firm guidance always met us in times of trouble and triumph.

Mrs. Scales, you have watched us grow and helped us become aware of what our goals were and how to truly obtain them. If a loving heart and sincere dedication is any indication of the riches an individual may possess, you have shown through your actions that you contain wealth beyond measure. "Ma" Scales, you have been the mother every college student needs to inspire them to aspire for the best.

Mrs. Manderline "Ma" Scales, simply lovingly and affectionately all we can say is Thank You, and a little of your light will shine in all of us everywhere we go.

Sincerely,

The Class of 1981

P.S. "Aunt Elvita Hunt", don't think we could forget you. Our love will protect and be with you and yours forever.

Greetings Fellow Rams,

It is with pride and honor that I had the Opportunity to edit the 1981 edition of The Ram. Through a lot of hard work, patience, and tolerance I sincerely hope that the staff and I have produced a book that is cherishable and most of all, memorable for you.

To the Class of 1981, I say congratulations and good luck with your future endeavors. This is not an ending, but a new beginning for you and I hope that this masterpiece will allow you to look back and see how you've gotten where you are today and inspire you to venture further.

I am most grateful to Ms. Cassandra Douglas, who gave us a more than considerable amount of time and help, and Mr. Beaufort Bailey who was captain of our vessel.

As all of us look back on our years at WSSU, I hope that it will be known that We Still Stand United!!!

Sincerely,
Teresa M. Johnson, Editor
The Ram 1981

TO TERESA JOHNSON

What is life without a cause,
What is time without a pause.
What is dedication without someone who is true,
Of all the persons we acknowledge . . . there's no one like you.
Your leadership is essential, your presence is a pleasure,
As of pearls, diamonds and emeralds . . .
you're a priceless treasure.
Thank you Teresa Johnson, for a job well done,
Hard work is considered complicated . . . but with you . . . it's fun.

Army ROTC Scholarships

Winston-Salem State

An Army ROTC Scholarship can save you and your family money.

Army ROTC scholarships pay for college tuition, textbooks, laboratory fees and other purely educational expenses at any of the colleges and universities which offer Army ROTC.

Scholarship cadets also get a tax-free subsistence allowance of $100 per month for up to 10 months a year, for each year of the scholarship.

A scholarship at Winston-Salem State can save you over $3142 (out-of state) or $2340 (in state) a year in tuition and general fees.

In addition, your textbooks and supplies (notebooks, paper, pens, etc.) are also paid.

The three-year and two-year scholarships are awarded competitively to students who are enrolled in ROTC or are eligible for advanced placement in ROTC.

Students who attend the Basic Camp of the Two-Year Program may also compete for two-year scholarships.

Scholarship students have a four-year active duty obligation. The remainder of the obligation will be spent in the Reserves.
